RUSTLER WAR.

"Red" Angus Gives the Particulars of the Wyoming Raid.

IDEAS OF THE STOCKMEN.

To Run All the Small Settlers Off and Have the Range to Themselves-Their Day is Past and the New Order of Things is Fixed.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Dec. 12.—"Red Angus, the stalwart and picturesque sheriff of Johnson county, who raised a posse and defeated the invaders last spring, arrived from the north last evening. Angus is on the way to the state penitentiary at Laramie with a batch of convicts. He is a big, finelooking man, a fluent talker, and while affable is positive and frank in his utterances and comments. Of the Powder river war and politics he said:

"None of us ever dreamed of such a thing as that raid. When a man came and told me that a mob of fifteen to twenty had killed Nate Champion and Reuben Ray at the Nolan ranch, I did not know what to make of it at all. I took a party of first-class men and cut across the country for the scene. My deputy organized a larger force and traveled by the road. I first came upon the wagons of the whitecaps and captured them, then took in the Nolan ranch. I saw there how the fifty stockmen and hired Texans had occupied an entire day in killing Champion and Ray; how they had fired hundreds of shots into the cabin; how they had finally fired it and riddled Champion with bullets as he ran for a gulch. Ray had died inside and his body was burned. This was the most atrocious, cowardly and barbarous thing that I ever saw. Champion would have fought any half dozen of those fellows single-handed. He was a brave and honest man, and people who knew Ray say the same of him. The invaders camped and took supper after they had killed the two men. My party in-ereased and I followed them. They secured fresh horses at the E. K. ranch and reached the T. A., and had it barricaded for a siege before I overtook them. My posse grew till it numbered over 100 and there would have been 250 in another day. Many of my boys wanted to make a charge on the fort, but I would not allow it. But for the interference of the military I would have captured the party within ten hours. They were in a bad hole. Members of my posse would have killed several of them in spite of all I could have

"I admit that there are a few rustlers in Johnson county, but the men who organized and led that expedition were the greatest thieves the range ever knew. The plot was to drive the rustlers and the small ranchmen out of the country and have all the feed for the big herds. The settlers have the country now, and they are going to keep it. Every citizen is well armed, and I can raise a posse of 250 tip-top fighters in three hours. They wanted to kill me because they could not use me. I will arrest and prosecute any man against whom there is a warant and complaint. but the stockmen did not take to me, and would not do business with me. could have arrested the men who killed Deputy United States Marshal Wellman, but they would not ask my assistance. Wellman was killed by mistake. The bullet that ended his life was meant for another man.

"The election comes out just the way I thought it would. The people were with the so-called rustlers, because they were under dogs. It was the rich against the poor, and the poor won."

Angus is a Grand Army man and an Odd Fellow, and he has friends all over the state. He will more than likely be the next federal marshal for the district of Wyoming.

ANOTHER CHURCH TRIAL.

Father Corrigan Arraigned For Attacks on Bishop Wigger and German Cath-

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 12. - The diocesan curia of Newark, met this afternoon at the residence of Mgr. Doane to try charges against Rev. Patrick Corrigan, of Hoboken, involving questions not only between two powerful forces in the Catholic church of America, but those involving in a sense the constitution of this country.

On the defendant side, Father Corrigan arrayed every representative of the liberal and American sentiment within the Catholic church of this country. His opponents represent the more numerous foreign element, perhaps the more powerful element within the Roman church in this country. Archbishop Corrigan, is squarely and emphatically against Father Corrigan, and a majority of the bishops and archbishops are either tacitly or openly antagonistic. A respectable minority are as yet non-commital at this stage of the proceedings.

There are twelve counts in the indict-

Rev. J. J. O'Connor, vicar-general of the Newark diocese and professor of dognatic theology in the diocasan seminary at Seton Hall, is the judge, and Father Corrigan is represented by Rev. Richard Lalor Burtsell, of Rondout, formerly pastor of the Epiphany church, New York. Father Corrigan wanted Mgr. Satolli, the papal delegate, to judge the case, but his request was overruled.

Dr. McGlynn on Catholic Issues NEW YORK, Dec. 12 -At Cooper union Dr. McGlynn advocated the opening of the world's fair on Sunday, and closing said: "Next Sunday I will discuss Satolli and the school question. Mgr. Satolli, you will recollect, represents the pope in America."

The mangled remains of a man were found on the Missouri Pacific tracks at Kansas City, Kan. They were thought to be the remains of Frank Mabry, a burglar, who was killed accidentally

COUNTY SEAT CHANGED.

Armed Men Remove the Records From Springfield to Liberal in Seward County,

ARKALON, Kan., Dec. 12.-For the past sixty days Seward county has been in what is known in western parance as a county seat fight. The election to relocate the county seat and remove it from Springfield to Liberal occurred last Thursday. The official count was made Saturday showing a majority of 125 for the removal. Two townships including Springfield decided not to vote, and people there had declared they would never give up the records without bloodshed. They had tried previous to the election to enjoin it, claiming an error in the call. Saturday a party of thirtyfive well armed men, prepared for get the county records. After the vote was canvassed and an order made for took possession at once, loaded them on wagons, which were held in readiness, and started for Liberal, a drive of twenty-five miles, reaching here shortly before midnight. Springfield people, while feeling very sore over the removal, made no objections whatever except County Treasurer Vessels, who would not allow his books to be removed. He will probably remove them himself in a day or two without trouble.

A DESPERATE LOVER.

He Shot the Girl he Loved and Then killed Himself-She Will Probably Recover.

Nevada, Mo., Dec. 8 -News has ist reached here of an attempted murder and successful suicide yesterday afternoon near Monto Vallo, 20 miles southeast of this town Jim Hargus, a young man 23 years old, living on the Joe Davis farm, north of this place, took dinner with the family of William Mann. He had been a regular caller at the house for about a year. The attraction was his victim, the pretty blue eyed trouble, left Liberal for Springfield to 16 year-old daughter Pearl. Mr. Mann was away from home. During moving the records to Liberal the party | the afternoon, while Hargus and the girl were alone in a room, he shot her and then shot himself. The girl was struck in the neck and it is thought she will recover. Hargus was also wounded in the neck, the wound proving fatal in a few minutes. Nothing is known of his antecedents except that he came to this county from Monroe or Audrain some four years ago. He was given to drink, and it is thought was crazed by liquor when he committed the desperate deeds. On Monday he hired a team at Walker, stating to a friend that he proposed to sell it and use the proceeds to get out of the country with the girl, and that if she refused to go he would kill her and then kill himself. The team is missing and it is supposed he sold it, as he got another team Wednesday morning from a livery stable which he drove to the house of his intended victim. The young lady is the oldest of nine children and her father is a respectable farmer in moderate circumstances

A Flour Moth.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 8 .- The Mediterranean flour moth has be come an alarming pest on the Pacific coast and has already caused the loss of thousands of dollars. There is hardly a mill in California which is not affected by the moth and all efforts to eradicate it have been unsuccessful. The moth spins strands of silk in great quantities, which not only get into the flour but also clog the machinery so badly that several mills were obliged to shut down temporarily. Prof. Johnson, who has made a careful study of the subject says that the moth propagates more rapidly in this climate than in Canada, the eastern states or other colder climates where it has appeared. He expects that the disastrous effects of this moth will be very apparent in nearly all the mills of the state before the end of anoth-

An editor brought his subscribers to their sense of duty with the following poetical parody: "Lives of poor men oft remind us, honest toi don't stand a chance; and the more we leave behind us, the bigger patches or our pants. On our pants once new and glossy, now are patches of different hue; all because subscribers linger, and won't pay up what is due Then let us be up and doing; send in your note be it ever so small or when the snow of winter strikes us we shall have no pants at all."

He Died a Hero.

Chicago, Ili., Dec. 8 .- Frank Eg ger, who has been out of work for long time, went insane this morning and shot his 13 year old son, Charles dead. The man attempted to kill his wife, but she escaped through the aid of her son, who held his crazed father while his mother ran out The infuriated father then turned the pistol on the boy, putting a bullet through his head.

Jay Gould's body was placed in his vault in Woodlawn Cemetery. New
